WELCOME

CROYDON

Autumn Term 2026

About the programme

The Early Years Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (EYSEND) Team provides support and advice to Croydon nurseries, pre-schools and childminders. We work with early years settings to promote high-quality inclusive practice and help meet the needs of children with SEND. Our central training programme runs alongside support from your locality SEND inclusion practitioners.

Who can attend? Our free training is for practitioners working in early years settings in the London Borough of Croydon.

General information

- Most central training is delivered online via Microsoft Teams unless a session is specifically confirmed as in person.
- If you would like to discuss INSET training, please speak with the Locality Lead for your setting.
- If you have accessibility requirements for online training, contact the team in advance so that support can be discussed.

Booking and cancellations

- Booking links for Autumn 2026 courses can be found within the training calendar in this document.
- Training is currently free so that as many practitioners as possible can access it.
- Failure to attend, or late cancellation, may result in a £20 penalty per person for online sessions, taken from the setting's termly funding.
- A replacement member of staff may attend instead without charge.
- If you can no longer attend, cancel your place through Eventbrite or contact the Early Years SEND Team.

COURSE DETAILS

CROYDON

Making Sense of Autism in the Early Years

Suitable for: All staff in early years settings, including childminders, nursery and pre-school staff, lunchtime staff, managers and office staff.

Gain a better understanding and awareness of autism and how autistic differences may present in early years settings. Autumn 2026 training is listed under the Neuro-Inclusive Education Network (previously the Autism Education Trust).

Good Autism Practice in Early Years

Suitable for: Practitioners working directly with children, including childminders, nursery practitioners, early years educators, teachers and SENCOs.

Develop practical knowledge, tools and approaches to support autistic children and children on the pathway to diagnosis. The Autumn 2026 dates document identifies this under the Neuro-Inclusive Education Network (previously the Autism Education Trust).

Supporting Behaviour for Children with SEND

Suitable for: All staff in early years settings, including childminders, nursery and pre-school staff, lunchtime staff, managers and office staff.

Explore theories and functions of behaviour to understand and support the behavioural needs of children with SEND in your setting. The course covers strategies and tools to provide practical support for children and guidance on behaviour policies and duties under the SEND Code of Practice.

Makaton Taster Sessions

Suitable for: Early years practitioners who would benefit from an introductory Makaton session.

A short introduction to Makaton, exploring how signs and symbols can support communication, language development and inclusion for all children.

Requesting an EHC Needs Assessment Workshop

Suitable for: Early years SENCOs and professionals preparing to request an EHC needs assessment for a child in their setting.

Practical guidance on preparing a request and understanding the legal timelines and process for an Education, Health and Care needs assessment in the Croydon borough.

Implementing the Graduated Approach - Guidance on Using the SEND Support File

Suitable for: Early years professionals supporting children with emerging SEND and disabilities.

Understand the key documents within the SEND Support File, how they sit within the graduated approach, and how to use them to support children with SEND in the setting.

Practical Guidance to the Role of SENCO

Suitable for: Early years SENCOs who are new to the role or would benefit from a refresher.

A practical session covering the SENCO role, the graduated response, supporting colleagues, working with parents and professionals, and understanding Croydon pathways and processes.
